Is there an auction in your future?
Let VanDerBrink Auctions work for you!

Early planning is one of the keys to a successful sale. It's NEVER too early to start planning or make that call to VanDerBrink Auctions.

Telling our sellers' story and saving history one piece at a time

VanDerBrink Auctions of Hardwick, Minn., has successfully conducted auctions in more than 13 states and brings more than 12 years of experience to its highly publicized sales. Owner Yvette VanDerbrink specializes in selling collector cars, parts, antique tractors, gas engines, motorcycles, gas and oil memorabilia, but conducts auctions of all kinds.

The successful formula for VanDerBrink Auctions is not a secret. The company works with sellers as a team to develop a plan. These plans result in successful sales by VanDerBrink Auctions of private collections, museums undergoing liquidation, older salvage yards and amazing barn finds.

VanDerBrink Auctions' plans include advertising and setup, plus options and ideas. VanDerBrink Auctions works 100 percent for the seller, and with its sellers through every step of the sale. VanDerbrink personally meets with each seller to develop an auction plan.

"We get it," says Yvette VanDerBrink. "We know that you have worked hard all your life, and this isn't just a collection or project cars, but a seller's '401K' and a part of them."

VanDerbrink Auctions also works with attorneys, banks and courts on settling estates and bankruptcies.

The auction company brings the world to each auction through the integration of modern technology and personal service. The internet is an amazing tool, and each seller's story is told to the world through the World Wide Web by VanDerBrink Auctions which uses both on-site and online selling to help sellers get the best possible price for each item. The company can also use its online-only format as an option for sellers.

When thinking about auctioning your collection, think VanDerBrink Auctions, LLC. The hobby, the world and many happy sellers already do.

Each auction — regardless of size — is not only a sale, but an event. VanDerBrink Auctions also understands that auctions are the best method to sell a collection, and any well-advertised auction will bring the market values of that day, and are the only method for a seller to get more than expected. With VanDerBrink Auctions' on-line and on-site bidding, the buyers truly come from around the world to help fetch market prices and, sometimes, record-breaking prices.

Such record prices were realized by VanDerBrink Auctions during 2013, an exciting year for the company. VanDerBrink has been honored to work with many great collections and sellers, but was thrilled to be selected to sell the Lambrecht Collection in Pierce, Neb. She proved the rumors of a Nebraska Chevrolet dealer who kept his unsold inventory and trade-ins wasn't an urban legend. For VanDerBrink, this was a labor of love. She spent thousands of hours and miles preparing the auction and telling the Lambrecht story.

Bidders from all over the world flocked to Pierce, Neb., for the sale of the Lambrecht Collection. More than 20,000 online and on-site bidders from 48 states and 25 countries vied for a piece of the legend. During two big sale days with international exposure — including a three-hour program on the History Channel — many world records were set and the collection was dispersed across the world. Highlights include $140,000 for a 1958 Chevrolet Cameo with 1.3 miles on MSO; $80,000 for a 1978 Indy Pace Car Corvette with 4 miles; and $42,500 for an unsold Corvair.

In 2013, VanDerbrink Auctions also sold several antique tractor collections and many other private collections that included fabulous Fords and barn finds.
