

The Rick Knigge “Go Fast” Collection Free Spirit in the Wild West!

The wild West has always been full of free spirits, dreamers, and wild men and women. Rick Knigge Was one of those Free Spirits growing up in the Wild West. Growing up around Casper, Wyoming, there was always something to do. Rick always had fast cars, and first car was a 1967 Chevrolet Chevelle. Drag racing around Casper, Wyoming and he was always winning or working on being the fastest. Rick worked for his dad’s water service and served oil fields and around the country. This gave Rick lots of windshield time and looking for his next project. When Rick wasn’t working, he was doing something he called, “Junk’in” with his friends. Rick always had a trailer hooked to his pickup and ready to go. That trailer is still hooked up to his truck.

Rick was always on the Next big thing. Rick was into everything from Hot Rods, Drag Racing, Speed boats, Rock Crawlers, and even Speed Boats. The collection shows Rick’s diverse interests and need for speed. Stephanie Knigge said, “Come ON Steph, let’s Go! Rick would see that next project and they jump in the truck and go!” Rick loved Chevelles, Corvettes, Ford Hotrods, and those MOPARS. Rick hunted for, 1933/4 Dodge humpback Panel Trucks. There are several on the auction along with parts. 1932 Fords, Chevelles, Camaros, Willys, and all the projects that he could go fast. Family time was important to Rick and there were lots of family trips, fishing, racing, and getting cars and parts. The Rock Crawlers and Jeeps on the sale were plans for Rick and his kids to do together.

Rick passed away suddenly after heart problems. His family was devastated. Gone so soon and so many projects left that did not get completed. Motors that were waiting for cars.
